Dear Sir:-

Can you kindly give me any information concerning the identification and value of Greek and Roman coins? I have a few made out of brass, copper and a metal probably iron. They are very old and made by hand.

Thank you very kindly

Dear Madam:

Your letter addressed to the American Museum of Natural History has been referred to us for reply. The condition of Greco-Roman coins plays so large a part in their valuation that it would be impossible to estimate the value of your pieces without seeing them.

I should suggest that the next time that you go to Providence you take your coins with you and leave them for examination at the Rhode Island School of Design. Mr. H. A. Green of Providence will, I think, be able to give some indication of their value. His collection is loaned to the Rhode Island School of Design, and perhaps you would consider loaning your collection there, if it proves to be of enough importance to warrant their placing it on exhibition.

Very truly yours,

Secretary.
